Colorado College DANCE Festival

Join us for three weeks of intensive training in diverse dance techniques from June 28 – July 16, 2010.

Our three-week intensive program at the Colorado College in Colorado Springs, Colorado, includes a full day of classes on dance technique, restorative forms, and composition. While the festival's emphasis is on modern dance, featured techniques include capoeira, ballet, contact improvisation, yoga, Body Mind Centering and Indian dance. Faculty includes Jan Erkert, Eric Handman, Rosangela Silvestre, Hijack, and many more. Evening performances include our annual Faculty Gala, dance for film screening, and the Young Artist's Concert showcasing student choreography, held in our new state-of-the-art Edith Kinney Gaylord Cornerstone Arts Center.

Jan Erkert Teacher's Workshop
July 5 – 9, 2010, $400

Special Workshop!

Celebrated teacher Jan Erkert will direct a week-long workshop designed for teachers who are working in the university, professional, and secondary school settings. The workshop will focus on teaching methodologies for dance training covering such subjects as articulating a point of view; setting goals, evaluation and assessment; sequencing exercises; incorporating somatic and conditioning principles into classes; utilization of imagery; and revitalization techniques. Teachers will investigate principles of movement through anatomical study, and movement development philosophies, and apply these investigations to their own dance training processes.
